

A message from Jordan

Greetings in the name of Jesus our Savior,

First of all I must say how blessed I am to be in the position I am. I have literally grown up at Indian Creek and to now to be the manager is more of a blessing than I ever thought could happen in my life. It is only by the Grace of Christ and the work of those He has placed in my life, that I am where I am today. For those of you who don't know me, I have been coming to the camp in some fashion for 13 years. The first of those years is the most special because it was the year of my Salvation. If you come for a visit, I can show you the spot near the campfire where I asked Christ to take my sin and take over my life. I could never dream of the path that decision has led me to today. From then on, I continued to come back for 3 years as a camper and then I joined the summer staff for the next 5 summers. After one summer of being a counselor, I rejoined the summer staff for the past two summers. In this time, I've grown spiritually, emotionally, physically and in my knowledge of the camping ministry. Over that time, I was given such great leaders at camp who are a major reason why I am the young man I am today and why I have the confidence to succeed as a camp manager. I couldn't be more proud to follow in the footsteps of managers like Max and Rebecca Scott, Paul and Joyce Scott, and Brian and Jennifer Myers.

My vision for the camping ministry continuing at Indian Creek could be summed up in two words: Growth and Foundation. With the help of the Steering Committee, staff, directors, counselors, and campers, who are guided by the Will of God, my prayer is that this camp will grow so much that we have to purchase new land and build new buildings because we can't house the numbers we are drawing in. I also pray that in that growth we will never stray from the foundation of striving to be like Christ in every aspect. We must stay focused on Him as the foundation for everything we do at camp, as He is the reason and goal of this ministry.

These ideas and goals cannot be achieved if we do not strive to make Christ and camping a priority in our lives. In a world of ever increasing busyness and striving to go, go, go, we must be able to see camp as the place of peace that it truly is. Come back if you haven't been in a while; bring friends if you've been coming every year. Continue to grow the ministry of Indian Creek and in doing so, grow the Kingdom of Christ.

In the Grace of Christ,

Jordan Morris
